

Our series continues this week with the following suggestions: Playing a round of golf; visiting a local potter; taking a tippie at the a local brewery; and time-out at a seaweed bath.

Remember, information is drawn from the provider's web sites - please do visit the individual sites for more information and bookings where necessary.

Dingle... it has so much to offer - go find it!

Play a round of Golf at Ceann Sibeal - Dingle Golf Club.

Overlooked by the majestic Three Sisters and in the shadow of Sibeal head, it is famous for its setting as a Star Wars location. The course is a perfect links course, challenging but totally enjoyable.

Visit their web site for more information.

Visit a local Potter

From Hand Crafted Pottery by Sinead Lough based in Ballyferriter village, who offers a beautiful feminine collection to the Louis Mulcahy Pottery workshop based in Clogher on Sleah Head, the landscape and breath taking scenery of the Dingle peninsula offers our potters endless inspiration.

Stopover at the West Kerry Brewery.

Located just outside Dingle on the Dingle peninsula, the brewery affords guests a truly artisan experience. Ingredients from Tig Bhric's own garden are used to produce the beer and give it its unique flavour. More information can be found on their web site here...

Enjoy a seaweed Bath.

The Wild Atlantic Seaweed Bath Spa located in Baile na nGall, Ballydavid, harvest seaweed from the shore, rich in minerals to totally reinvigorate our bodies. Take time out to relax and rejuvenate.
