

A lovely article on Castlewood and Dingle Peninsula in this months Easy Food Magazine.

Postcards from...

CASTLEWOOD HOUSE
DINGLE, CO. KERRY

This four-star boutique property, perched overlooking the picturesque Dingle Bay, is a great spot for a weekend getaway or family break. It has the right mix of comfort and elegance, so while you feel like you are staying in a luxurious hotel with the highest standards in hospitality, you also enjoy the welcoming vibes of a quaint B&B.

The owners, Helen and Brian Heaton, are the perfect hosts and are more than willing to help you during your visit in any way they can, even a last minute restaurant booking on a Saturday night when you've left it far too late, for instance!

Between them, Helen and Brian both have years of experience working in the hospitality industry, this is obvious from the care and attention that has gone into every detail in Castlewood House.

Located just a five-minute walk from the lower centre of Dingle town, it makes a great base to set out and explore the town on foot or to head off in the car for a trip of the area's sights; needless to say Dingle Peninsula is not short of these! After spending a day wandering the streets of Dingle and discovering the many unique shops, you can return to base and relax in the very-inviting front room, read a book beside the fire, or chill out in your bedroom and enjoy a warm Jacuzzi bath. Each bedroom has its own individual interior design and is finished with an elegant country house style adding to the overall cosy, homely feel. In the morning, a gourmet breakfast awaits you that is a veritable feast! It is served in the dining room overlooking the bay, which is as nice a way to start the day as I can think of. But don't take my word for it, try it yourself!
