

The Hotel and Catering Gold Medal Awards are held in Dublin each year at the end of September.

This year saw the 26th annual awards ceremony, and Castlewood House was delighted to have been awarded Best Guest House 2014, chosen from a listing of well-deserved establishments.

These awards are bestowed on properties through a combination of public voting and the strong input of a judging panel made up of Irish industry experts. These experts visit properties 'secret shopper' style and test the business to its extremes.

We were delighted and honoured to with this award for the business, and for our staff, who work so hard to make it all happen. Brian was particularly happy to have been in the nominations for Best Breakfast too - a just compensation for all those early morning starts to prepare breakfast for our guests each day.

Come visit Castlewood House Dingle soon and experience Ireland's Best Guest House for yourself.

The picture above shows Brian receiving the award from Anton Savage at the recent ceremony in Dublin.