

The minute I saw this furniture I knew that it would be perfect for our Junior Suite – it has an Indonesian influence and is rather majestic. The teak furniture is quite masculine so I wanted to soften it with vibrant reds set against crisp white cotton. The cushions were a surprise find in a favourite store and they bring the bed coverings to life.

My sister Susie was in Thailand on her honeymoon and she brought me back the figure of Buddha and I found this room the perfect spot for it!

I bought the pictures by the bed just after I bought the furniture and I think they compliment it perfectly. We continued the same theme through to the bathroom and the Villeroy and Boch sink is my favourite in house. The wenge accent tiling finishes off the look.
